Examples of founding related mandates include mandates that specify the structure and the functions of the established entity or amend the original founding mandate of such entity. For ease of reference, founding and founding related mandates are also presented in a separate list, at the beginning of this document.
- Mandates that have been acted upon and for which implementation is ongoing have been indicated as "Implemented-in progress".

- Mandates that have not been acted upon have been indicated as "Not implemented".
- Mandates that call for action by entities other than the UN system, such as for example Member States, non-governmental organizations, international financial institutions, or more generally the international community have been identified as "n/a" (i.e. non-applicable), as they do not pertain to the purpose of the mandate review exercise.
- Mandates for which it has not been possible to collect definitive information on the status of implementation have been identified as "No indication".

* The Mandate Registry currently has a total of 382 mandates older than five years and not renewed since that originated in the General Assembly. The present document contains 391 mandates, since it includes some of the mandates indicated by the delegation of Japan as missing from the Mandate Registry. Mandates of the General Assembly older than five years and not renewed constitute approximately 4% of all mandates. The commonly used figure of 7% refers to the total amount of mandates older than five years and not renewed originating cumulatively from the General Assembly, the Economic and the Social Council and the Security Council.
