

Bolivarian Republic

VENEZUELA

Venezuela gives great importance to the Human Rights Council, and commits itself with Member States, in accordance with the principles of the United Nations, to promote the consolidation of the Council, as an effective, objective, and faithful body, ensuring the observance of the principles of universality, impartiality, objectivity and non-selectivity, in the assessments of all Human Rights, through:

-Ensuring international cooperation to strengthen the capacity of the United Nations Member States in the defense of Human Rights.

-Contributing to the enhancement and rationalization of the Council's mandates and mechanisms, including a universal review of the Human Rights situation in Member States and the evaluation of the quality and objectivity of the reports.

-Revising the budgetary needs of the organisms in charge of the promotion of Human Rights.

-Struggling against racism and all forms of discrimination and religious intolerance, based on a constructive dialogue among States.

-Working on the approval of relevant Human Rights instruments, including the United Nations Declarations on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples; the International Convention for the Protection of All Persons from Enforced Disappearance and the Additional Protocol of the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights.

“FOR A HUMAN RIGHTS COUNCIL THAT PROMOTES THE INDIVISIBILITY OF ALL HUMAN RIGHTS”