

Кыргыз Республикасынын
Бириккен Улуттар Уюмундагы
Туруктуу окулдугу

Permanent Mission of the Kyrgyz Republic to the United Nations

866 United Nations Plaza, Suite 477, New York, NY 10017, Tel.: (212) 486-4214, Fax.: (212) 486-52-59
E-mail: Kyrgyzstan@un.int

016/184

The Permanent Mission of the Kyrgyz Republic to the United Nations presents its compliments to the President of the 60th session of the United Nations General Assembly and with reference to note verbal 016/47 dated 5 April 2006, has the honor to remind the decision of the Government of the Kyrgyz Republic to present its candidature for one of the thirteen seats allocated to the Asian regional group to the UN Human Rights Council, at the elections to be held during the United Nations General Assembly session on 9th May 2006 in New York.

The Permanent Mission of the Kyrgyz Republic to the United Nations has the honor to enclose herewith its voluntary pledges and commitments in accordance with the GA Resolution A/RES/60/251 of 15 March 2006.

The Permanent Mission of the Kyrgyz Republic to the United Nations avails itself of this opportunity to renew to the President of the 60th session of the of the United Nations General Assembly the assurances of its highest consideration.

New York, 25 April 2006

H.E. Mr. Jan Eliasson
The President of the 60th session of the United Nations General Assembly
New York

Kyrgyzstan's Voluntary Pledges and Commitments on Human Rights

Kyrgyzstan, which has supported the establishment of the Human Rights Council, is firmly believe that this new body will bring an important contribution to the strengthening of international achievements and constructive cooperation for the promotion and protection of Human Rights issues on the basis of equity and equality in according with the main goals and principles stipulated in the UN Charter.

Kyrgyzstan has never been a member of any Human Rights bodies before, however being as a young and independent state the Government of the Kyrgyz Republic since its independence in 1991 is profoundly and firmly committed to the respect and effective promotion and protection of security, peace, development and all human rights and fundamental freedoms, which are key pillars of its national development and embodied in the Constitution and other relevant legislation acts of Kyrgyzstan.

Kyrgyzstan is a State Party to the vast majority of the universal Human Rights treaties, including seven core United Nations instruments that have established the monitoring mechanisms on their implementation:

- International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights;
- International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights;
- International Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Racial Discrimination;
- Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women;
- Convention against Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment;
- Convention on the Rights of the Child;
- International Convention on the Protection of the Rights of All Migrant Workers and Members of their Families;
- First Optional Protocol to the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights;
- Optional Protocol to the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women;
- Optional Protocol to the Convention on the Rights of the Child on the involvement of children in Armed Conflict;
- Optional Protocol to the Convention on the Rights of the Child on the sale of children, child prostitution and child pornography.

Implementation of Kyrgyzstan's commitments under the human rights treaties, including of those set forth in the United Nations Charter in the human rights documents and treaties adopted within the framework of the OSCE is of crucial importance. Kyrgyzstan has recognized the competence of all respective treaty bodies to receive and consider communications from individuals or groups of individuals within its jurisdiction claiming to be victims of a violation.

The Government of Kyrgyzstan has been closely cooperating with the Special Procedures mandate holders. It has extended invitations to various mandate holders on different issues and is expressing its readiness to further cooperate with them in the years to come.

At the national level, measures to protect and promote human rights and fundamental freedoms includes the effective functioning since 2001 of the office of national human rights defender – Ombudsman, the ongoing reforms of the judicial and penitentiary systems, regular amendments and revisions of the Election and Criminal Codes in accordance with recommendations of the international organizations. Particular attention is being attached to freedom of information and functioning of free and independent mass media, and recent developments in this field include the initiative to establish a separate office of ombudsperson on mass media.

At the international level, in line with its overall support to the United Nations' activities in the field of human rights Kyrgyzstan fully supported the reform of the existing the UN human rights machinery, in particular the strengthening of the Office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights and replacement of the Commission on Human Rights with a stronger and more efficient Human Rights Council.

Kyrgyzstan views the concept of dialogue in a broad sense of the word, to comprise an interaction with civil society and non-governmental organizations, Special Procedures, as well as dialogue among civilizations, States with national and regional particularities and various historical, cultural and religious backgrounds. In this regard, Kyrgyzstan also welcomes the decision that the Council should serve as a forum for a dialogue on thematic issues on all human rights issues.

Both at national and international levels, Kyrgyzstan proceeds from the universality, interrelatedness, interdependence, indivisibility and mutual reinforcement of all human rights, civil and political on the one hand, and economic, social and cultural rights on the other, including the right to development. Kyrgyzstan believes that there cannot be the hierarchy amongst rights, and equal focus should be placed on all human rights.

In its future activities, Kyrgyzstan has strong intention to continue to contribute to the United Nations' action in the field of protection and promotion of human rights. Kyrgyzstan stresses its commitment to actively participate in the work of the Human Rights Council in the spirit of dialogue and cooperation and to further support the strengthening of the UN human rights machinery, in particular the Office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights.

The promoting of democracy, rule of law and human rights represent one of the major pledges of the Kyrgyz foreign policy. Kyrgyzstan consistently supported the international initiatives aiming at preventing and combating violations of fundamental human rights and freedoms, at developing existent standards, and at supporting Member States with the necessary assistance for improvement of their human rights protection system.

If elected, Kyrgyzstan would actively contribute to the work of the Human Rights Council proceeding from the necessity of realization of all human rights, including the right to development, as well as to strive for rationalizing the system of special procedures. Kyrgyzstan will continue to place special focus on promotion of gender equality and advancement of women, as well as on the rights of the child and other vulnerable groups.

At the national level, Kyrgyzstan reiterates its readiness to continue its cooperation with Special Procedures mandate holders and treaty monitoring bodies and to employ measures in line with their recommendations and concluding observations.

Kyrgyzstan commits to submit all periodic reports on the implementation of international human rights instruments to the Human Rights Committee, the Committee on Economical, Social and Cultural Rights, the Committee on the Elimination of All Forms of Racial Discrimination, the Committee against Torture - on the Convention against Torture and other Cruel, inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment, the Committee on the Elimination of Discrimination against Women, the First Committee on Migrant Workers, the Office of High Commissioner for Human Rights through the current Regional Technical Cooperation Project on Central Asia and new initiatives and to pay special attention and make necessary steps towards the recommendations issued by the treaty bodies.

Kyrgyzstan pledges at the international level to take an active part in the work of the Human Rights Council through participation in the process of standard-setting for the protection of human rights and contribution to the new initiatives aiming at amelioration of human rights situation all over the world;

- to continue to cooperate with the system of Special Procedures of the HRC and contribute to the process of strengthening and enhancing this system;

- to promote human rights protection universally through human rights dialogues, exchange of experts, technical cooperation and advice.

Kyrgyzstan strongly backs the efforts to strengthen the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights, including the doubling its resources from the UN regular budget, in order to enable it to carry its functions more effectively. Kyrgyzstan will seek possibilities, to the best of its abilities, to make voluntary contributions to structures within the UN human rights system.